

GUAR SEED

NCDEX Guarseed prices experienced a sharp decline of over 4.50% last week, touching a high of ₹5,519 and a low of ₹5,263. The daily chart indicates a firm bearish trend, characterized by lower highs and lower lows, reinforcing the downside momentum. Immediate support is identified at ₹5,200, with key resistance positioned at ₹5,430. The Ichimoku Cloud indicator further supports this bearish outlook, with prices trading below the cloud, suggesting a continuation of the downtrend. On the weekly timeframe, the 14-period RSI is below the 50 mark, underscoring the strengthening bearish momentum. Projections for further downside suggest potential targets at ₹4,950 and ₹4,900. However, a weekly close below ₹5,500 would invalidate the bearish stance, signaling a shift in sentiment with possible upside risk.

GuarGum

NCDEX Guar gum has shown a notable decline, dropping by 5.60% last week, with prices oscillating between ₹11,250 and ₹10,590. The weekly chart reflects a continuation of the bearish structure, marked by successive lower highs and lower lows, reinforcing the downside bias. Prices remain below the critical 21-period EMA, which acts as a dynamic resistance, and the 14-period RSI stays below 50, signaling sustained bearish momentum. "sell on rise" strategy favorable for this setup. Key downside targets are projected at ₹9,900 and ₹10,000, aligning with technical indicators that support further weakness. The bearish outlook remains intact unless prices manage to close above ₹10,800 on a daily basis.

Turmeric

Turmeric prices declined by around 3.25% last week, with movements between a low of ₹13,100 and a high of ₹14,012. The daily chart shows a continued bearish trend, evidenced by lower highs and lower lows. A break below the ₹13,050 level could signal further downside potential toward ₹12,400. Immediate resistance is identified at ₹13,550, with a stronger resistance level at ₹13,720. Additionally, the 14-period RSI on the weekly chart remains below the 50 mark, indicating a consolidation phase with a bearish bias. In the medium term, prices may test the ₹12,400 support level, and caution is advised unless the resistance levels are broken, which could suggest a potential change in trend.

JEERA

NCDEX Jeera prices fell by over 2.70% last week, forming a bearish candle with a high of ₹25,450 and a low of ₹24,300. Key support levels are observed at ₹23,900 and ₹23,500, while immediate resistance stands at ₹25,050, hinting at a potential for range-bound movement with a slight downward bias. The Ichimoku Cloud indicator shows prices trading below the base line (Kijun-sen), which acts as a critical resistance and strengthens the bearish sentiment. Additionally, the 14-period RSI on the weekly chart remains below the 50 mark, signaling that downside momentum persists in the near term.
