Reliance Industries: Compelling risk-reward; FCF generation likely to pick up

Reliance Industries (RIL) has underperformed the broader benchmarks, Bharti and organized retail peers, over the past few years, despite similar or superior EBITDA growth. We believe RIL's underperformance was driven by higher capex in Retail and RJio as well as a lack of FCF generation. However, we believe the capex has likely peaked and expect RIL to generate ~INR1t cumulative FCF over FY24-27. We believe the risk-reward is compelling as RIL is currently trading close to our bear-case valuations (1:10 risk-reward skew).

- ❖ The earnings outlook remains robust for RIL's key segments, with growth likely to be driven by RJio (more frequent tariff hikes, market share gains, and FWA ramp-up).
- ❖ While near-term growth in Retail could be impacted by the streamlining of operations, we expect robust growth recovery driven by footprint and category expansions.
- ❖ After two quarters of weakness, refining margins have improved in 3Q, though petchem contribution is likely to remain subdued in the medium term.
- ❖ We believe RIL's capex has likely peaked in FY24 with the completion of 5G rollouts. Capex should increase in New Energy, but will likely be funded by robust cash flow generation in the O2C segment.
- ❖ We expect ~INR1t cumulative FCF generation for RIL over FY24-27, driven by standalone and RJio. The separate listing of RJio and Retail and commissioning of giga factories in New Energy remain the key medium-term triggers.

Stock Performance (1-year)

Compelling risk-reward; FCF generation likely to pick up

Reliance Industries (RIL) has underperformed the broader benchmarks, Bharti and organized retail peers, over the past few years, despite similar or superior EBITDA growth. We believe RIL’s underperformance was driven by higher capex in Retail and RJio as well as a lack of FCF generation. However, we believe the capex has likely peaked and expect RIL to generate ~INR1t cumulative FCF over FY24-27. We believe the risk-reward is compelling as RIL is currently trading close to our bear-case valuations (1:10 risk-reward skew).

- The earnings outlook remains robust for RIL’s key segments, with growth likely to be driven by RJio (more frequent tariff hikes, market share gains, and FWA ramp-up).
- While near-term growth in Retail could be impacted by the streamlining of operations, we expect robust growth recovery driven by footprint and category expansions.
- After two quarters of weakness, refining margins have improved in 3Q, though petchem contribution is likely to remain subdued in the medium term.
- We believe RIL’s capex has likely peaked in FY24 with the completion of 5G rollouts. Capex should increase in New Energy, but will likely be funded by robust cash flow generation in the O2C segment.
- We expect ~INR1t cumulative FCF generation for RIL over FY24-27, driven by standalone and RJio. The separate listing of RJio and Retail and commissioning of giga factories in New Energy remain the key medium-term triggers.

Reliance Jio: Tariff hike, market share gains, and FWA ramp-up to drive growth

- The pass-through of Jul’24 tariff hike has been encouraging and the full benefits should reflect by Mar’25. The headline subscriber churn for Reliance Jio (RJio) in 2Q was largely driven by the clean-up of inactive subscriber base as reflected by an improvement in RJio’s VLR subs.
- Given the consolidated market structure in the Indian telecom industry, higher data consumption, lower ARPU, and inadequate returns generated by telcos, we expect tariff hikes to be more frequent. We build in ~15% tariff hike in Dec’25.
- With Vi’s large capex plans, we believe the pace of market share gain may slow down, but RJio (and Bharti) is still likely to continue gaining market share at Vi’s expense.
- Post the completion of 5G rollouts, RJio’s focus has shifted to accelerating the AirFiber (FWA) rollout. We expect contribution from the Broadband business to increase to ~12-13% by FY27 (vs ~7% currently).
- We build in a revenue/EBITDA CAGR of ~17%/21% over FY24-27 for RJio.

Reliance Retail: Growth recovery remains key for re-rating

- Over the past few quarters, Reliance Retail's (RR) growth has been impacted by weak discretionary demand as well as its focus on streamlining operations and adopting a more calibrated approach in B2B.
- We expect RR's growth to pick up in 2H with the festive season and a higher number of weddings. However, a return to the double-digit group could take a few quarters as the company is likely to continue its focus on streamlining operations in the near term.
- RR is the biggest contributor (~38%) to our SoTP valuations for RIL and a recovery in its growth is likely to be the biggest trigger for the stock.
- We build in modest ~12.5% revenue CAGR over FY24-27 (significantly lower vs. ~19% CAGR over FY19-24), with broadly stable EBITDA margin at 8.4% by FY27 (vs. 8.4% in 2QFY25), which could have upside risks from a faster ramp-up in RIL's consumer foray and new category launches.

O2C: Refining margins recovery underway; petchem to remain soft

- While RIL's O2C segment delivered a weak performance in 2QFY25, we note that SG complex GRM has improved significantly (3QFYTD average: USD4.9/bbl vs. USD3.1/bbl in 2Q).
- We believe GRMs should remain healthy, albeit range-bound in CY25 amid global oil demand continuing to be under pressure (IEA: 1mbpd increase).
- Petchem cracks have remained weak and we do not expect a sharp recovery in the next few quarters as global capacity additions remain aggressive for products such as PE and PP, based on the commentary from South East Asian petchem players.
- After a subdued 1HFY25, we build in modest recovery in consolidated O2C EBITDA. However, we note that our FY27 consol O2C EBITDA is only marginally higher than FY24 levels and could have upside risks from recovery in petchem cycle and higher contribution from petro retail marketing JV.

New Energy: Best placed to utilize economies of scale

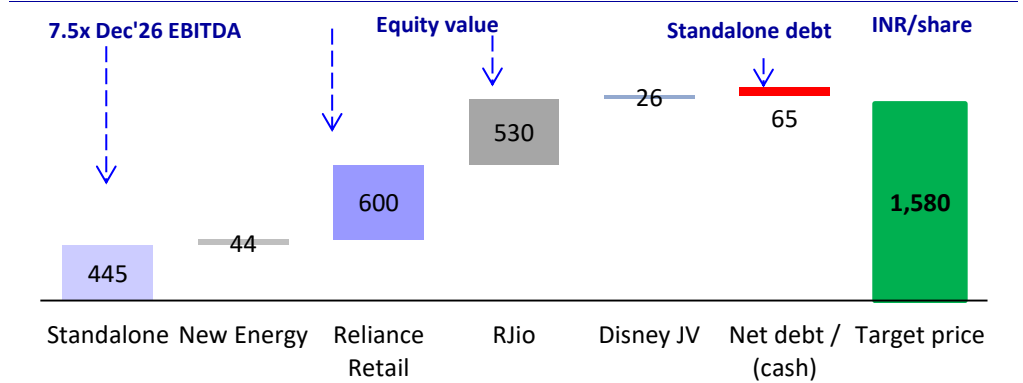

- RIL's New Energy business is reaching a transformative milestone, marked by the start of phase I of solar module manufacturing capacity in 4QFY25. This will be followed by the commencement of operations in cell manufacturing and phase II of module manufacturing in the next two quarters.
- RIL aims to integrate backward from modules to cells, ingots, wafers, and glass manufacturing by FY27-28, a feat that requires not only significant capital commitments but also technical know-how. We believe RIL's backward integration will enable it to achieve not only a strong market share but also cost leadership.
- In FY24 AGM, RIL had outlined its vision for New Energy to become as big as the O2C business in five to seven years. We believe near-term profit contribution from New Energy will be minuscule as the bulk of the output would be used for captive consumption.
- As such, we are not building any contribution from the New Energy segment till FY27, though we believe that with scale and cost/technology superiority, New Energy could be the key profit growth driver for RIL in the longer term.

- RIL had originally outlined a USD10b investment in the New Energy business over three years. The capex outlay has been slow (USD3-4b spent so far), but we believe the original capital commitment will increase as RIL ramps up battery manufacturing and green hydrogen initiatives.
- With ~INR600-700b operating cash flow generation for the standalone business and low capex (INR150-200b), we believe robust O2C cash flows can continue to fund New Energy capex.

Valuation and view

- We build in ~10% consolidated EBITDA and PAT CAGR over FY24-27, driven by double-digit EBITDA CAGR in RJio (tariff hikes, market share gains, and FWA ramp-up) and RR (continued footprint and category expansions). After a subdued 1H, we expect earnings to recover for the O2C segment, driven by improvement in refining margins. However, our FY27 consolidated EBITDA for O2C and E&P is broadly similar to FY24 levels.
- We model an annual consolidated capex of INR1.25-1.3t for RIL as the moderation in RJio capex is likely to be offset by higher capex in New Energy forays. However, we believe the peak of capex is behind, which should lead to FCF generation (~INR1t over FY24-27) and a reduction in consolidated net debt.
- For RR, we ascribe a blended EV/EBITDA multiple of 32x (35x for core retail and ~7x for connectivity), based on average valuations for retail peers (DMart, Trent, ABFRL, Vedant Fashions, and Metro Brands) to arrive at an EV of ~INR10t (~USD120b) for RRVL and an attributable value of INR600/share for RIL’s stake in RRVL.
- We value RJio on DCF implied 12.7x FY27E EV/EBITDA to arrive at our enterprise valuation of INR11.6t (USD138b) and assign ~USD10b valuation to other offerings under JPL. Factoring in the net debt and also 33.5% minority stake, the attributable value for RIL comes to INR530/share.
- Using the SoTP method, we value the O2C/E&P segments at 7.5x/6x Dec’26 EV/EBITDA to arrive at an enterprise value of INR445/sh for the standalone business. We ascribe an equity valuation of INR530/sh and INR600/sh to RIL’s stake in JPL and RRVL, respectively. We assign INR44/sh (INR600b equity value) to the New Energy business and INR26/sh to RIL’s stake in Disney JV (based on transaction value). Reiterate BUY with a TP of INR1,580.

Ambitious investments and strategic expansion drive growth

- We attended Tata Power’s analyst meet, where the company showcased its 4.3GW cell and module manufacturing facility at Tirunelveli in Tamil Nadu. The event was also attended by senior management from the company. Our key takeaways: 1) management showcased its vision to double EBITDA and PAT (before minority) to INR300b and INR100b by FY30, respectively; 2) by FY30, TPWR expects the share of renewables in PAT to rise to ~50% (FY24: 21%), while the share of conventional generation and coal, which now account for ~44% of PAT, will decline to ~11%; 3) capex is estimated to rise to INR1,460b in the next five years, ~3x the capex over the last five years.
- While the company had provided similar guidance last year as well, below are the key takeaways that stood out for us: 1) capex for FY26-27 was raised to INR250-260b p.a. from INR220-230b; 2) TPWR provided greater granular details at project and capacity levels this time (especially for T&D, cell & module manufacturing, and RE generation), which enhances visibility as to how the revenue and EBITDA targets will be achieved; 3) COD for 2.8GW of pumped hydro projects has been deferred slightly by 6-12 months; 4) the operational green capacity target for 2030 was raised to 23GW (from 20GW previously) while the under-construction pipeline has now expanded to 10GW (from 3.7GW earlier), and 5) land, PPA, and transmission connectivity for the RE pipeline remain solid.
- Segment-wise guidance provided is as follows: 1) cell and module manufacturing: both cell and module production are expected to ramp up to 4GW by FY26 (1/1.8GW in 2HFY25 for cell/module); 2) pumped storage and hydro-power: construction at 1GW Bhivpuri PSP and 1.8GW Shirwata PSP is likely to commence in CY25; TPWR also outlined additional hydro potential in Bhutan of up to 15GW vs. the 5.1GW MoU signed with Druk Green Power; 3) T&D: transmission and distribution remain the key focus areas for the company with a plan to double operational capacity to 10,500 cKm by FY30 (from 4,633 cKm now), and Odisha regulated equity to nearly double by FY30; in distribution, TPWR aims to expand the customer base to 40m by FY30 (from 12.5m now) and the company outlined Rajasthan, UP, Assam, Andhra Pradesh, and Andaman & Nicobar, where active discussions are ongoing with respect to distribution-related opportunities; and 4) green generation capacity: while the company has 6.7GW green operational generation capacity, ~10GW remains under construction, and the FY30 vision is to reach ~23GW in operational green capacity.
- We reiterate our BUY rating on the stock with an SoTP-based TP of INR509.

Flattish volume growth; margin pressure in the Indian business

Godrej Consumer Products (GCPL) released its pre-quarterly update for 3QFY25. Here are the key takeaways:

India performance

- The demand conditions in the Indian FMCG sector have been subdued over the past few months.
- Despite this, GCPL was delivering an average organic Underlying Volume Growth (UVG) of ~7% over six quarters, driven by category development, innovations, and media investments.
- The standalone business is expected to report flattish UVG and mid-single-digit sales growth for 3QFY25 due to weakness in the Soaps and HI segments.
- Historically, the standalone business has delivered normative EBITDA margins in the range of 24-27%. However, in 3QFY24, exceptional margins of 29.7% were achieved, driven partly by favorable commodity prices. The current inflationary environment is putting pressure on margins, and the company expects a temporary decline below the normative range in this quarter.

Soaps segment

- The soaps category, which contributes approximately one-third to the standalone business revenue, has been impacted by a 20-30% YoY increase in palm oil and derivative prices.
- To mitigate these cost increases, GCPL has implemented price hikes, reduced the grammage of key packs, and scaled back various trade schemes.
- These measures, while having minimal impact on category consumption, have led to reduced inventory across wholesale and household pantries.
- The company anticipates normalization in volume growth in the next few months as pricing stabilizes.

Home Insecticides (HI) segment

- Growth in the Home Insecticides segment, which contributes another one-third to standalone business revenue, has been negatively affected by unfavorable weather conditions, including delayed winters in North India and cyclones in South India.

Rest of the portfolio

- The rest of the portfolio is demonstrating robust performance and is expected to deliver double-digit UVG.

International business

- The Indonesia business is expected to continue delivering strong performance with mid-single-digit volume growth and high-single-digit sales growth.
- The GAUM (Godrej Africa, USA, and Middle East) business is anticipated to see a decline in volumes due to a reduction in trade stocks and portfolio simplification. The effects of these actions would be largely completed in 3QFY25. However, GCPL remains on track with its profitability goals and expects this to be the fourth consecutive quarter of healthy EBITDA margins for GAUM.

Slight weakness in order run rate reflects the impact of new F&O regulations

Angel One (ANGELONE) released its key business numbers for Nov'24. Here are the key takeaways:

- ANGELONE's gross client acquisition declined 14.3% MoM to ~0.6m in Nov'24 (-11.8% YoY) due to some impact of the festive season and overall lower activity. However, this is beneficial from the EBITDA margin perspective in the near term.
- The total client base stood at 28.8m in Nov'24 (+2% MoM/+56% YoY).
- The average funding book declined 3.7% MoM to ~INR39.7b (+113.7% YoY).
- The number of orders declined to 131m (lesser number of trading days) for Nov'24 (-23.5% MoM /+22.2% YoY), and there was a 6.4% MoM decline in the number of orders per day to 7.3m. The initial part of Nov'24 had the impact of the festive season, while in the later half the new regulations were implemented.
- The overall ADTO was down 12% MoM, due to a 12.5% decline in the F&O segment's ADTO and 4.1% decline in the cash segment's ADTO, while commodity segment's ADTO rose 30.5% MoM.
- Based on the option premium turnover, the overall market share declined 20bp MoM while F&O market share remained flat MoM at 19.8%/21.9%. Market share for the cash segment declined 30bp MoM to 16.4%.
- The number of registered unique MF SIPs declined 11.7% MoM to ~0.65m in Nov'24 (+130.9% YoY).

Acquiring Camso brand off-highway Construction equipment bias tyres and tracks business from Michelin

- CEAT has entered into a definitive agreement with Michelin, to acquire Camso brand's off-highway construction equipment bias tyre and tracks business.
- This acquisition includes two Sri Lanka-based plants and global ownership of the Camso brand, after a 3-year licensing period.
- Camso is a premium brand in construction equipment tyres and tracks with strong equity and a solid market position in the EU and North American aftermarket and OE segments.
- The all-cash deal is valued at ~USD225m and includes a business with revenues of ~USD213m as of CY23.
- The acquisition will enhance CEAT's product portfolio in the high-margin off-highway tyres (OHT) and tracks segments, including agricultural tyres and tracks, harvester tyres and tracks, power sports tracks, and material handling tyres.
- With this move, Michelin intends to focus on radial technology tires. This transaction is expected to help strengthen the financial performance of the Specialty tire business.
- CEAT has scheduled a conference call for analysts and investors on Wednesday, 11th Dec'24, at 16:00 to give details of this acquisition.
- Mr. Anant Goenka, Vice Chairman, RPG Enterprises, said, "This acquisition has significant strategic consequence for CEAT as it catalyzes the company's journey toward being a leading tyre maker globally. Camso is an industry leading brand in the off-highway tyre market built through many years of investment in creating product superiority and manufacturing excellence, nurtured through the Michelin parentage. Most importantly, we found a great cultural alignment between Camso and CEAT because of our TQM way of working."
- Mr. Arnab Banerjee, MD & CEO, CEAT, said, "The Camso brand is an excellent fit with the growth strategy of CEAT's Off-Highway Tyre business, thereby improving our margin profile. Access to the most premium customers, a high-quality brand and a qualified global workforce is what excites us the most about this acquisition. The track segment is a technologically superior segment with a limited number of global players. We also found high synergies between the two brands, CEAT and Camso, and are confident that both will benefit tremendously from their complementary capabilities and positioning."
- Mr. Nour Bouhassoun, Senior Vice President, Beyond Road Business Line at Michelin, said, "Michelin firmly believes that CEAT is the right fit to carry on our bias tyres and tracks for compact construction equipment business. Both our companies are fully committed to ensuring a smooth transition for our employees and business continuity for our customers and suppliers. With this operation, Michelin is continuing to reshape its Beyond Road business, in line with the Group's sustainable growth strategy".

Valuation and view: Management has strategically focused on increasing its share in segments like 2Ws, PVs, and off-highway to enhance margins and reduce reliance on the truck segment. The acquisition will help further bolster its presence in the global OHT segment. However, given the deal size, it is likely to increase leverage (0.45x D/E and 1.2x D / EBITDA as of Sep'24 end) for the company, particularly amid a moderate demand cycle in most segments. The stock trades at 17.5x/13.5x FY26E/FY27E EPS.

RBI keeps repo rate unchanged; cuts CRR by 50bp

Rate cuts could begin from Feb'25 or later

- The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) announced its fifth bi-monthly monetary policy for FY25 on 6th Dec'24. The rate-setting panel decided to keep the benchmark repo rate unchanged at 6.5% for the 11th consecutive meeting, with four out of six members voting in favor. Dr. Nagesh Kumar and Prof. Ram Singh voted to reduce the policy repo rate by 25bp.
- The MPC unanimously decided to keep the 'neutral' stance. The Governor mentioned that "a growth slowdown – if it lingers beyond a point – may need policy support" but also that "the gains achieved so far in the broad direction of disinflation, notwithstanding the recent upticks, need to be preserved".
- Simultaneously, the RBI decided to reduce the cash reserve ratio (CRR) of all banks to 4.0% of net demand and time liabilities (NDTL) in two equal tranches of 25bp each, with effect from the fortnights beginning 14th Dec'24 and 28th Dec'24. This was announced to ease the potential liquidity stress.
- As real GDP growth turned out to be much slower than anticipated, the RBI downgraded its projections to 6.6% for FY25 (from 7.2% earlier) with 3Q/4QFY25/1QFY26 at 6.8%/7.2%/6.9% (from 7.6%/7.4%/7.3% earlier). Real GDP growth is projected at 7.3% in 2QFY26, with risks broadly balanced. At the same time, higher headline inflation in Sep'24 and Oct'24, led by food items, pushed RBI's projections higher. Taking into consideration all the factors, the inflation is projected at 4.8% for FY25 now (from 4.5% earlier) with 3Q/4QFY25/1QFY26 at 5.7%/4.5%/4.6% (from 4.8%/4.2%/4.3% earlier). Headline inflation is projected at 4.0% in 2QFY26, with risks broadly balanced.
- Overall, although the RBI has revised down its growth projections, it expects the growth to recover to 7% YoY in 2HFY25, higher than our forecast of sub-6%. At the same time, while we expect the headline inflation to be closer to 5.7% in 3QFY25, it could be higher than the RBI's projection in 4QFY25. Consequently, the combination of weak growth and high inflation could present itself in the next monetary policy also. Therefore, while rate cuts could begin from Feb'25, it is not a foregone conclusion.
